HAUS + HOME TALENT WELCOMES MASTER CRAFTSMAN, SAM WILMOTT TO ITS ROSTER

London, UK - 5th July 2024 – Haus + Home Talent, the leading talent management agency specialising in the DIY and home interiors space, is thrilled to announce the signing of skilled woodworker and furniture maker, Sam Wilmott (@monkeyboysworkshop).

Sam is a shining star in the woodworking community, renowned for his exceptional craftsmanship, astonishing attention to detail and chic, timeless designs. He has captivated audiences not only with his engaging personality and stealthy video transitions, but with his appearances on BBC's popular show, "Money for Nothing," breathing new life into unloved furniture and showcasing the transformative power of woodworking.

"Sam's dedication to his craft and passion for creating beautiful, functional pieces, and showing beginners, hobbyists and seasoned professionals how to do it themselves, perfectly aligns with Haus + Home Talent's mission," says Jasmine Gurney, Founder of Haus + Home Talent. "By joining us, we'll be able to help Sam explode his reach and impact by providing media exposure, brand partnerships, business growth opportunities, and help build a unique brand identity so that cements his authority within the woodworking community.."

With Sam's artistry and creativity and Haus + Home Talent's industry expertise and contacts, exciting collaborations and educational content are on the horizon. Stay tuned for Monkey Boy's Workshop to inspire a new generation of woodworkers and elevate the appreciation for handcrafted furniture!
